

THE JESTER, THE MINSTREL AND I

We have only two voices among us and yet

There's a third voice: a voice in disguise

You'll be hearing a trio, and not a duet

If you listen with both of your eyes

Kindly (listen) with both of your (eyes)

We produce a unique and remarkable blend

When we raise our three voices on high

We're in perfect accord from beginning to (end)

The King and the Minstrel and I.
